Art Seasons is pleased to present the big SMALL show from April 18th to May 11th, 2013. On its 3rd edition, this group exhibition will bring in 26 artists together from China, Korea and South East Asia to discuss the variety and possibilities of SMALL artworks, which are 100cm x 100cm in dimension or smaller in a BIG contemporary art context in Asia. More than 60 artworks will be displayed in the show. Artworks medium include paintings, photos, sculptures or installations.

Some of the participating artists are long oriented towards small-sized artworks and some created their works by chance. The starting point for the exhibits is that their dimensions, in principle, are less than one meter. By confining the “smallness” of the artworks, the vision of the viewers is all of a sudden transformed into a congenial landscape. Having gone through the reckless and unconstrained regeneration in contemporary art, we hope that this exhibition will sweep flippancy and tedium off their feet, and afford us a new visual experience.
